

REPUBLICANS WAKING UP.

THEIR BATTALIONS FALLING INTO LINE.
THE CAMPAIGN IN INDIANA TO BE PUSHED HARD—CLUBS ORGANIZING IN NEW-YORK AND OTHER STATES—THE UNION LEAGUE ISSUES A DECLARATION—MINOR POLITICAL NEWS.

Indiana, now an October State, is beginning to be agitated with the strife of the campaign. The Republicans are setting out with the intention of carrying seven or eight of the Congressional districts of the State, if possible. They now have six. It is said that Eastern Democrats have sent $45,000 to Indiana. A. G. Porter, the Republican candidate for Governor, is becoming popular.

In other States there is also some stir, although the farmers are still busy with their harvest work. The Union League of America has issued a strong declaration in favor of the Republican party. The famous Order No. 40 of General Hancock is about to be published by the Republicans as a campaign document. That order abandoned loyal men in Hancock's district to their fate, and untid the work done by Sheridan.

The Republicans are now actively forming campaign clubs throughout this State, and preparing for a hard fight to carry the election for Garfield and Arthur. A singing campaign is being projected by one of those clubs in this city. An Irish Republican meeting was held up-town last night. The arrangements now making for the Democratic ratification meeting here on Wednesday are elaborate.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS IN INDIANA.
THE REPUBLICANS AGGRESSIVE AND HOPEFUL—THEY EXPECT TO GAIN TWO CONGRESSMEN AND ELECT THE GOVERNOR—THE NOMINATIONS FOR CONGRESS—PORTER DEVELOPS POPULARITY.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 24.—The Republicans in Indiana are fully aware to the importance of redeeming Congress from the control of the Democracy, and will make a special effort to gain a district or two at the coming election. Notwithstanding the errand of the Democrats in the last Legislature, the Republicans expect to carry seven, and perhaps eight, of the thirteen districts.

In the 1st District no nomination has yet been made, but it is settled that the Hon. Wm. Heilmann, who now represents that district, will be nominated. This district lies in the southwestern corner of the State, and the confluence of the Wabash and Ohio Rivers makes what is termed "the Pocket." "The Pocket" had always been Democratic until in 1878 Mr. Heilmann, with the aid of the workingmen and his German friends, carried it for the Republicans. Since then the Democratic Legislature has tackled on to the district the Democratic County of Pike, expecting to overwhelm Mr. Heilmann, but in this they will undoubtedly be disappointed. If Mr. Heilmann did not increase his vote over his majority in 1878 he would still have a majority of 331. He will be opposed by John J. Kline, of Evansville, and there is no fear of his defeat.

The 11th District gives a Democratic majority anywhere between 2,000 and 3,000. It comprises the most reasonable part of the State during the war—the home of the Knights of the Golden Circle—and it is the home of Democratic districts. Sullivan County, those valiant major-generals of the Sons of Liberty, is in this district. It also takes in Dubois County, which will give any number of Democratic votes needed to place out a majority. Thomas R. Cobb, who now represents the district, has been renominated and will be elected. The Republicans have put up Dr. James Braden, of Dubois County, and he will probably reduce Mr. Cobb's majority.

The 11th District is also Democratic. In 1876 it gave a Democratic majority of 7,049, and in 1878 it gave 8,124 Democratic majority. Mr. S. A. Stockbridge is the Democratic nominee; the Republicans have not yet nominated. The Republican organization in the district was never better, and the Republicans hope to increase largely their vote.

The 14th District Democrats have nominated William S. Holman, who was one of the "watchdogs of the Treasury" when in Congress. He will be opposed by James O. Cravens, of Madison. The district is Democratic by 7,000 or 8,000 majority, and Mr. Holman will probably be elected.

The 16th District is a close one. In 1876 the counties which now compose the district gave an aggregate majority of 3,851 for the Republicans. In 1878, when the Greenback vote had increased to 2,000, the Democratic majority was 3,735. The Republicans have nominated William B. Treat, a member of the last General Assembly, and a strong candidate. Against him is pitted a young lawyer of no experience and little ability, named C. C. Watson. The Greenbackers have nominated Professor John C. Rednath, of the Indiana Asbury University, who is a strong Republican, and who has informed the party that he will not accept of his nomination.

The 17th District is Republican by more than 6,000 majority, and the Hon. Thomas M. Browne has been renominated by the Democrats. No nomination has been made by the Democrats.

The 18th District, which includes the City of Indianapolis, is composed of Marion, Hancock and Shelby Counties. Marion is Republican, and the other two are Democratic counties. The district is a close one. In 1878 the Democrats and Greenbackers combined and carried Marion County for De La Matry over John Hanna, who was an infatuated Democrat. According to the figures of that year the Democrats would have a majority of 2,210 in this district. But this year De La Matry will draw all the Greenbackers and many of the soft-money Democrats out of the Democratic camp, and the Democrats have refused to endorse him, and have nominated Casabianca Byfield. The Republicans have not yet nominated their candidate. Several excellent men want the nomination. John Coburn, who represented this district three terms, stands a good chance for the nomination, and he would make a strong race.

The 19th District, as now composed, is Republican, based on the majorities of 1876. A popular young lawyer, R. B. F. Pierce, a brother of the Editor of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, has been nominated by the Republicans. Bayless W. Hanna, of Terre Haute, is the Democratic nominee. The Greenbackers, who poll a large vote in that district, have put up Mr. John Conner, of Fountain County. The township elections in May show that the Greenback vote has about doubled in that district, and it is generally believed that he will carry the district.

The 20th District Republicans have nominated John L. 1,220 for the Republicans in 1876, and the aggregate Greenback vote was 314. In 1878, in the same counties, the aggregate Republican majority was 2,420, and the Greenback vote was 632. While Mr. De La Matry has a hard fight before him, a poll of the district shows that he can be elected. This is a bad year for Greenbackers and Democrats, and Mr. De La Matry has no fear of defeat. The counties composing the 21st District were largely bitten by the Greenback flea in 1878. In 1876 the Democrats had an aggregate majority of 180 only in those counties. In 1878 the Greenback vote was larger and the Republican vote smaller, but the exact figures are not at hand. The Republicans in Indiana are not at all discouraged, and are aggressive in their campaign.

The 22nd District is hopelessly Democratic. The Hon. Walpole G. Coierick has been renominated. The Republicans have nominated Judge Robert S. Farley, who was prominently mentioned as a candidate for Governor. He is one of the most prominent Republicans of the State and a rising man. Although he may not be elected, he will cut Mr. Coierick's majority down considerably.

The 23rd District is also Democratic. The Hon. William H. Calkins, who is a member of the 21st Congress, has been nominated by the Republicans. He is now in Colorado looking after his extensive mining interests in that State, but will return and open an aggressive campaign about the 1st of August.

The 24th District is also Democratic. The Democrats have nominated a man of whom little is known, and who will certainly be beaten. His name is David McDonald, of Plymouth.

The 25th District is also Democratic. The 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th,
